Gage forces appear to have captured the delegates to the state convention, over in California, and the governor is almost sure of a renomination. The fight being made against him is a most bitter one.

Col. J. F. Wilson appears to have captured all the delegates to the territorial convention from northern Arizona. Shannon can win by getting the delegations from the south and this he is expected to do.

A hundred thousand Pythians are in San Francisco in attendance on the biennial convocation. The number of members and their friends in the city is estimated at 150,000. This is the greatest gathering in the history of the order. Hereafter the sessions of the supreme lodge is to be marked by great pomp and ceremony that will attract to the city where the session may be held hundreds of thousands of members and visitors.

If you would attract attention to the fact that you have mines for sale you must advertise. Newspapers are doing all they can to bring the industry of the county to the notice of the outside public, but the aid of mine owners is necessary to keep the newspapers going. An adv. calling attention to your mines will not be out of place in the newspapers. Put it in and make a noise about it. You have the best mines on earth, but the purchasing public may be unaware of it.

Alexander G. Pendleton, the Arizona boy who was convicted of hazing at West Point, has been sentenced to dismissal and the sentence confirmed by the president. Any young Arizonan who so far forgets that he is supposed to be a gentleman, whether he is one or no, should be punished for the oversight. Arizonans, as a rule, are born gentlemen, if of the male species, and are brought up to the age of reason in an atmosphere that breathes into their hearts chivalry and love of their fellow man to such an extent that the thought of one of our people transgressing the rules of society and playing the cad is repugnant to all true born sons of Montezuma's land.

The county commissioners of Arapaho county, Colorado, (Denver) are up against a criminal as well as civil action on account of a printing contract on a par with the letting of the printing contract in this county. The steal was so flagrant that the district attorney filed an indictment against the board and now they are defending themselves on a criminal charge. The board here are in the same boat and the charges will be pressed against them at the next session of the district court. Steals of this kind may go through once in a while, but generally there is a revolt and the thieves are sure to come to grief.

Unlike the many mine owners, when a great calamity overwhelms them, the Daly-West company is meeting the issue manfully and paying off all death claims that resulted from the terrible explosion of the powder magazine in that property two months ago. The basis of settlement agreed on is 1,000$ for each single man; 2,000$ for widows and 500$ for each child. The great number of men killed left large families and these will receive from three to six thousand dollars. The aggregate of the payments will run up into the thousands. It was a terrible calamity, but the company is smoothing the way for the orphan and widow to the best of its ability.

Henry L. Shattuck of Shell-burg Iowa, was cured of a stomach trouble with which he had been afflicted for years, by four boxes of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He had previously tried many other remedies and a number of physicians without relief. For sale by H. H. Watkins druggist.

Organized Labor and Politics.

The labor organizations of Arizona met at Prescott last Saturday and adjourned to meet in Phenix on the 19th of the present month. At this meeting a resolution was adopted setting forth the following: "We, the representatives of organized labor of the territory of Arizona do hereby pledge ourselves and the unions we represent to work against and vote against any man, nominated for office by a political party, whose past record shows him to be an enemy of organized labor, and we further pledge ourselves to use every means in our power to defeat candidates for office who in the past have voted against or worked against the eight-hour bill, mine inspectors bill, freight and fare bill, anti-blacklist bill, anti-pluck-me-store bill, and any other bill in the interest of organized labor; and be it further

"Resolved, That the Territorial Federation of Labor, in pursuance of the action of the last convention of the Western Federation of Miners and the American labor unions, declares itself entirely opposed to the present competitive system as a capitalistic and unjust system of production and distribution, as we well know by years of bitter experience; that the two dominant political parties admit of no legislation favorable to the laboring classes, therefore we advocate the adoption of the initiative and referendum in our legislation. We also advocate the public ownership of all means of production and distribution; be it further

"Resolved, That the federation give support wherever possible to candidates pledged to the above principles in preference to those seeking office on any other platform.

The assemblage also scored the Phenix Republican for its attitude in the matter of the destruction of the Congress pumping station, when it is alleged that the destruction of that plant was due entirely to the explosion of a gasoline tank. The Phenix Democrat, in summing up the situation, appears to think that if the unions carry out their political views it will disrupt the democratic party, as it was the members of that party that defeated many just laws presented to the legislature at its last session, especially the eight hour law, the pluck-me-store bill, mine inspector's bill, freight and fares, blacklist, etc., bills. It advises the democrats to throw over all men opposed to organized labor and cast aside ambiguity in the matter of questions affecting labor and capital. With an enrolled membership of 5,000 the unions certainly can control political matters at least for a while. Regarding this matter we again assert that labor unions should not enter politics, but should evade political issues just as studiously as they would religious topics. We have seen the decadence of many political secret orders and just so sure as the lodge room is given over to political discussion just so soon does turmoil prevail. Lodges are apt to have friends outside of the candidate of the lodge and they will fight to have him placed on the ticket of the order, while he is compelled to abide the decision of the majority. But will he do it? We have never seen the man who would give way to his convictions in the matter of his political beliefs to suit the views of others. In the matter of politics and religion a man is a free mortal and no ties of lodge will bind him. If the lodge attempts to dictate to him it will surely lose a member, or make him very luke warm. In the matter of bread and butter he can be brought around, but not in the matter of life-long political convictions. To maintain a living scale of wages labor must organize and each man must stand by the other and in this every community should uphold the man, but when politics is the issue it is an entirely different matter and communities will look upon the organization as purely political.

Cured Paralysis.

W. S. Bailey, P. O. True, Texas, writes: "My wife had been suffering five years with paralysis in her arm, when I was persuaded to use Ballard's Snow Liniment, which cured her all right. I have also used it for old sores, frost bites, and skin eruptions. It does the work." 25c, 50c and 1$ bottle at H. H. Watkins's drugstore.

While the elections may be the all absorbing topic in this county the fact should not be overlooked that we have mines to sell and mines to develop. Just keep before the public the fact that we have one of the greatest mineral regions on earth and that we need capital to develop the latent industries.

It is thought that the elimination of the negro vote as a consideration in many of the southern states will have the effect of causing many democrats to join the republican party. As long as there was a possibility of negro rule in the south there was a congealing of the white vote under the democratic banner, but now that there is no possibility of the negro gaining the ascendancy the protectionist element of the democratic party will go over to the republicans and the political fights will hereafter be among the whites.
